ST. LOUIS BASED AIRCRAFT CHARTER COMPANY HIRES PILOT

Aero Charter hires Mike Davis as Line Pilot

(ST. LOUIS / January 1, 2013) Aero Charter, the charter, FBO and aircraft support company based at the Spirit of St. Louis Airport, Chesterfield, Mo. (KSUS), recently hired Mike Davis as a line pilot. Davis has been a licensed pilot for 30 years and has worked as a commercial pilot for 16.

Davis spent a portion of his high school years at the American Community School in Beirut, and graduated from Elsberry High School in Mo. Davis later attended the University of Missouri, studying Aeronautical Engineering.

Throughout his aviation career, Davis has held a variety of positions from piloting freight airplanes to towing banners to being a director of operations. Davis also spent 40 years as a volunteer and professional firefighter. Although, the experience he is most proud of is the time he spent flying with Wings of Hope, an organization that focuses on supplying resources and medical supplies to poor areas in order to raise the level of self-sufficiency. With this organization, Davis flew patients with the Medical Air Transport (MAT) program to receive medical attention they would not have received otherwise.

“Not only does Mike’s experience as a pilot make him a great addition to Aero Charter, his passion for helping people makes him a great person to work with.” said John Morgenthaler, President of Aero Charter. “We are glad to have him on board with Aero Charter and look forward to his long-term employment.”
